RECRUITMENT SERVICES

Understanding your business

At AMARrecruit we specialise in a values-based approach to recruitment. With considerable experience in recruitment we offer many innovative strategies designed to attract and retain staff.

Our service is well placed to understand the needs of your organisation and deliver a professional service within the confines of budgetary common sense.

We listen, advise and agree on a suitable way of proceeding. We work with many clients in a variety of settings, ranging from assisting with advertising campaigns through to an executive board level appointment.

● Suggested recruitment options available include:

Candidate selection – securing a positive outcome

A traditional recruitment process normally looks simply to match a candidate's skill with the job criteria provided by the employer. Our approach to managing recruitment campaigns differs from this and we look to include additional attributes.

As part of our standards of operation:

- Each candidate we present for interview will have provided pre employment referees and will have met our pre selection criteria.
- Candidate identification is verified against 'official' documents that would include a passport or birth certificate.
- Applicants are guided through the recruitment process to assist employers to meet their recruitment and project time frames.

AMARRecruit provides a professional end to end
recruitment service.
