About AMA (WA)

The Australian Medical Association (WA) is the peak health lobby group in the State, representing more than 5 000 doctors in WA and 27 000 doctors nationally.

AMA (WA) represents you on issues that affect you at university and throughout your medical career.

We lobby on behalf of student members for:

- Funding for medical school places
- Intern and Specialty training positions
- The adequate position of work and training places for graduates.

AMA (WA) works closely with and supports WAMSS, MSAND and CAMS student bodies in the development of various initiatives throughout the year.

Many medical students are also involved in the Dr YES program and other public health programs coordinated through AMA (WA).
