MEANINGFUL CONTRIBUTION AND REAL ADVANCEMENT.

It's well-established that high performing boards contribute more significantly to society in the areas of social equity and economic prosperity.

Through its courses, the AICD provides critical governance knowledge that underpins improved board productivity and performance.

Improved governance understanding leads to better outcomes, no matter the size or stage of your organisation.

The in-house Company Directors Course is designed to improve your board's performance in three important ways.

STRENGTHENING YOUR BOARD'S GOVERNANCE CAPABILITY.

Understanding of governance may differ between individual board directors, so this course sharpens the focus on consistent and confident decision making. Learning promotes the board and governing team's alignment to a core set of good governance principles and practices which underpin board productivity and performance.

FOSTERING YOUR GOVERNING TEAM'S COHESIVE GROWTH.

Building your governance understanding improves board cohesion and performance. Developing an understanding of good governance through discussion of core governance principles and practical, relevant examples improves learning outcomes and growth.

BOOSTING YOUR BOARD'S SECTOR-SPECIFIC EXPERTISE.

Your organisation's specific governance requirements originate from its operating context. AICD's Board Advance Team matches course facilitators with your industry to ensure a meaningful learning experience, with relevant insights and case studies.

With a dynamic and contextualised approach, participants will gain a real edge in governing for performance.
